Overview of the sub-fund

Objective(s) To increase the value of your investment over the long term, while seeking to preserve the capital invested.

Benchmark(s) 40% Euro Stoxx 50 (SX5E Index) + 40% Euro- Bund Futures (RXA Comdty) + 20% Cash – €STR capitalised (OISESTR Index). Use: performance comparison and performance fee computation.

Investment policy

The sub-fund invests, directly or indirectly via other funds, in various assets (equities, bonds) and sectors throughout the world (including emerging countries). It may use derivatives to hedge against market fluctuations, reduce costs or generate additional income.

Investment process

The manager uses macroeconomic and market analysis to actively allocate investments in a flexible manner between different asset classes (top-down approach) and to select securities with superior growth potential or a favourable risk profile. The sub-fund's performance may therefore deviate significantly from the index.

Risk factors

What are the risks and what's in it for me?

 The risk indicator assumes that you hold the product for at least 5 years. The real risk may be very different if you opt to exit before maturity, and you may get less in return.

The risk indicator is used to compare products in terms of their potential risk. It is calculated using a regulatory methodology that takes account of market movements and the risk of loss if the issuer of the product is unable to refund you. The risk indicator is not guaranteed and its level may change over time.

All investments involve risk. The value of your investment in this sub-fund may increase or decrease over time, and you may lose part or all of your investment. This product is in a low to medium risk category (level 3 out of 7). Unfavourable market conditions will most likely reduce the value of your investment.

The risk indicator for the sub-fund reflects the following elements:

Diversification between asset classes and geographical zones tends to reduce volatility and the level of risk.

Other risk factors not included or only partially included in the risk indicator:

- If you invest in a product with a currency other than your own, changes in exchange rates may also reduce your gains or increase your losses.
- Unusual market conditions or unforeseeable events may amplify risks or trigger other risks such as counterparty, liquidity and operational risks (a full description of these risks is available in the prospectus).
- When the product is faced with large redemption requests, it is possible that the execution of transactions may be delayed, which could have a negative impact on your investment.

Management commentary Quarter 4 - 2023

The fourth quarter of 2023 was fairly negative in October due to persistent uncertainty over inflation and the US Federal Reserve's monetary policy. The yield on the 10-year US government bond rose above 5% before ending the year at around 4%, which represents very high volatility for such a liquid asset of such importance to the financial markets.

The reassuring inflation figures published in November and a change in rhetoric from Jerome Powell enabled the markets to recover and end the year on a very positive note. The portfolio benefited fully from the fall in interest rates in Europe and the United States. Equities also made a strong contribution to performance, with positions such as L'Oréal, Airbus and Microsoft reaching all-time highs.
